Nanna's Garden

They say memories are golden,
But her garden was just that,
There were orchids, carnations and lilies,
And daisies down the bank.
Spaces filled with Hydrangeas, Rhododendrons and Daffodils in rows,
You would be lucky to find a weed in any garden Nan grows.
Lilly of the valley and sweet peas perfectly placed about,
With Camellias tucked in any space she could search out.
But most of all there were roses and roses you see,
Encased the beauty of Nan's life, with her family.
This garden became a monument to her life's worth,
To sit on a bench in the middle made her happier, than any other place on earth.
Except in Henry's arms,
Where she will now stay,
For today we set her free to him,
To dance the days away.
But just like the strength of the perfumes from the flowers,
We will remember Nan in her garden for hours.
This was a place of beauty,
Anyone who saw will know this is true,
As Nan's forget-me-nots will stay in the memories of me and you
We will now hold Nanna and her garden's work,
In our minds, for there is no other place like her garden on earth.

Song : Could I Have This Dance (Anne Murray)

I'll always remember,
the song they were playing,
The first time we danced and I knew

As we swayed to the music, and held to each other,
I fell in love with you

Could I have this dance
for the rest of my life,
Could you be my partner
every night,
when we're together
it feels so right,
Could I have this dance
for the rest of my life

I'll always remember,
that magic moment,
When I held you close to me

As we move together,
I knew forever,
you're all I'll ever need
