Feel no Guilt in Laughter

Feel no guilt in laughter, he'd know how much you care.
Feel no sorrow in a smile that he is not here to share.
You cannot grieve forever; he would not want you to.
He'd hope that you could carry on the way you always do.
So, talk about the good times and the way you showed you cared,
The days you spent together, all the happiness you shared.
Let memories surround you, a word someone may say
Will suddenly recapture a time, an hour, a day,
That brings him back as clearly as though he were still here,
And fills you with the feeling that he is always near.
For if you keep those moments, you will never be apart
And he will live forever locked safely within your heart.

He's Gone

You can shed tears that he is gone, or you can smile because he has lived.

You can close your eyes and pray that he'll come back, or you can open your eyes and see all he's left.

Your hearts can be empty because you can't see him,
or you can be full of the love and friendship you shared.

You can turn your backs on tomorrow and live yesterday,
or you can be happy for tomorrow because of yesterday.

You can remember him, and only that he's gone, or you can cherish his memory and let it live on.

You can cry and close your mind, be empty and turn your back.
Or you can do what he'd ask of you: smile, open your eyes, enjoy each day, love, live life to the full, and move on.

One at Rest

Think of me as one at rest
for me you should not weep
I have no pain, no troubled thoughts for I am just asleep.

The living thinking me that was is now forever still
And life goes on without me now as time forever will.

If your heart is heavy now
because I've gone away
Dwell not upon it long friend
For none of us can stay.

Those of you who liked me
I sincerely thank you all
And those of you who loved me
I thank you most of all.

And in my fleeting lifespan as time went rushing by I found some time to hesitate to laugh, to love, to cry.

Matters it now if time began
If time will ever cease?
I was here, I used it all
and now I am at peace.
